

Biomass Utilization Symposium

Science | Policy | Economy
 May 2-3, 2024 | Hopland, CA

Overview

The 2024 SMEDD Biomass Utilization Symposium will bring together industry, academia, government, tribes and community-based organizations to explore the opportunities and challenges of implementing forest biomass utilization projects for fire safety, forest health, renewable energy, wood products, and supporting sustainable, stewardship-based, rural economic development.

Topics:

- Science & Policy
- Agency Implementation
- Active & Proposed Projects:
- Finance and Funding
- And more

Audience:

- Interested Community
- Planners & Practitioners
- Elected Leaders
- Educators & Students
- Entrepreneurs

Pricing:

- $90 Symposium + Tour
- $75 Symposium Only (includes coffee/pastries & lunch)
- $25 Tour Only (incl boxed lunch)

May 2 | Pre-Symposium Site Tour Options

Southern Option: Old World Winery, Fulton Soil Carbon Management Pilot Project

Northern Option: Potter Valley Tribe Forest Health Improvement Pilot Project

